

SOUTH CAROLINA CHAPTER OF THE NATIONAL BROWNFIELD ASSOCIATIONS

Chapter Networking Reception
March 15, 2007 - 5:00 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

Innovate Building
148 River Street
Greenville, South Carolina 29601

Mark your calendar and join us for this terrific opportunity to mingle with property owners, developers, service professionals, and government representatives that share your passion for the responsible redevelopment of brownfields. The informal reception will be a venue to learn more about the NBA and the benefits of being a member. The event will also provide a forum for exchange of potential brownfield transactions across South Carolina.

Featured speakers will include:

- Greenville Mayor Knox White
- National Brownfield Associations Executive Director Robert Colangelo
- Conestee Foundation Co-Founder David Hargett

The event will be located in the Innovate Building, a lead building in the brownfield redevelopment of downtown Greenville, along the Reedy River waterfront. As host of the event, SynTerra invites you to join us for the reception and open house of this historic textile mill.

What is the National Brownfield Associations (NBA)?

The NBA is a leading organization of professionals that monitor the market or make their livelihood in brownfield redevelopment. NBA provides a transaction-focused network where members can meet industry leaders and exchange ideas, information and best practices.

The reception is free.

Sponsorship opportunities are available.

Please RSVP by March 10, 2007, via email to maryh@brownfieldassociation.org. Call (864) 421-9999 if you have any questions or would like assistance with hotel reservations.
